

Fall 2019 Student Grant Application Guidelines

The R.W. Kern Center is seeking applications for student grants for Fall 2019. Kern Center grants fund research or projects relating to an aspect of the Kern Center's systems, mission, and/or to the Living Building Challenge. Please read the full description and requirements below to learn more.

We encourage applications from all disciplines (social sciences, natural sciences, humanities, arts, etc.). If you are unsure if your project qualifies or have questions about the grant requirements or application process, please contact Claire Shillington at cshillington@hampshire.edu, x6775.

Applications are due on Friday, October 18, 2019 at 5pm.

About the Kern Center

The R.W. Kern Center is the 17th certified Living Building, an embodiment of Hampshire's sustainability and educational values in practice. The Kern Center contributes to a more sustainable, equitable, and ecologically restorative world by modeling positive transformation of the built environment. Through research, education, innovation, and operation, we share this mission with our campus community, building and design professions, and the general public.

Who can apply?

- Applicants must be Hampshire students in good academic standing. Students on academic probation and students on leave are ineligible for funding; students on field study may apply.
- Students who have received Kern funding for past projects may apply, as long as it is for a different project. Preference may be given to students who have not previously received funding.

What kind of project/research can be funded?

- Project must engage an aspect of the Kern Center or Living Building Challenge (LBC). Examples include:
 - Research on a building system or component (greywater processing, ventilation, composting toilets, raingardens, energy use)
 - Critical analysis of LBC values, process, or outcomes
 - Developing educational materials to teach others about the Kern Center/LBC
 - If you can make the case for your project to be funded by the Kern Center, apply!
- Project must not have been funded previously by the Kern Center.
- Project must not yet be completed; the Kern Center cannot fund projects retroactively.
- Grant requests may not exceed $1,500.

Application Contents

1. Application Form: Complete and attach as the first page of your proposal. You must check off each item you include, assemble your application in the order listed on the application checklist, and bind all items as one PDF for submission.
2. Project Proposal Description: Include the following sections (2 pages max, single spaced, 11-pt font)
 - a. Introduction — Briefly describe your proposed project plan or research idea. Clearly state the ways your project engages the Kern Center’s mission and contributes to your field.
 - b. Research Question/Project Topic (WHAT) — Describe your proposed project or research idea.
 - What is your hypothesis, problem statement, or specific question your project will address?
 - c. Purpose & Goals (WHY) — Describe your project’s context and impact.
 - What do you hope to accomplish with this work?
 - What skills or knowledge do you hope to acquire?
 - How is this project/research relevant to the Kern Center?
 - Has other research been done in this area? Support your proposal with citations from relevant literature and prior findings.
 - d. Method & Work Plan (HOW) — Describe how you will execute your project or research.
 - What are the steps and milestones for this project (include a timeline if necessary)?
 - How and where will you conduct your research?
 - What methods/models will you use?
 - What labs, research sites, or studio spaces will you use for this work?
 - If you will use a questionnaire or survey, attach it (or a draft version) to this proposal.
 - e. Your Preparation — Describe how you have prepared to do this work.
 - What do you already know about this topic/research area?
 - What is your previous research or internship experience and skills?
 - What relevant courses have you completed? (attach a list as an appendix)
3. Bibliographic References: List all references that you cite in your proposal in bibliographic format; do not include non-cited references (1 page max).
4. Supporting Documentation:
 - a. Supporting Letters: Letter from your Div II or Div III Chair and from the faculty member supervising your project (if different) stating your academic strengths, the appropriateness of this project for your Div II or III, and your project’s relevance to the Kern Center. The letter must include reference to their review and approval of your budget. Supporting letters may either be included in the PDF submission of your application, or emailed to cshillington@hampshire.edu.
 - b. Div II or Div III Contract: A copy of the filed contract printed directly from the HUB (screen print the HUB pages; do not paste text into a separate document).
 - c. Div II Evaluation: A copy of your evaluation printed directly from the HUB (for Div III applicants), or if the evaluation is not yet on the HUB, two or three evaluations of courses relevant to your project (screen print the HUB pages; do not paste text into a separate document).

5. IRB or IACUC Approval: If you are using human or animal subjects in your project attach a copy of your IRB or IACUC approval.

Under federal law the College Institutional Review Board (IRB) must approve all research involving human subjects. IRB Applications are submitted to the Dean of Faculty Office. If you are using animal subjects in your research attach a copy of your IACUC (Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee) approval.

Please indicate if you have not received, or are pending approval, as your funding will be contingent upon providing a copy of your approval letter.

6. Laboratory/ Project Workspace Use & Safety Approval: If you are working in a research lab or designated project workspace, attach a letter of permission from the lab/workspace manager.

7. Budget with Justification: List each item, supplier, cost, and its purpose in your project.

Eligible expenses include: lab materials, project-related supplies, payments to research subjects, small equipment and software (to become property of the Kern Center upon completion), and travel expenses for field study/off-site research.

If you are applying for funding from other sources for other project-related expenses, include a complete budget listing these expenses and all other funding sources to which you have applied.

Consult the budget examples on the next page for formatting guidelines.

R.W. Kern Center Funding Conditions

These funding conditions are included in the application guidelines as a reference. Please note that if your project is funded, you will receive updated conditions which may include different deadlines.

Required Documentation

Documentation of your project is an important part of communicating our impact to the R.W. Kern Center community. The following documentation is required as a condition of your funding:

Project Profile - due by November 22, 2019

Provide a brief (1-2 paragraph) introduction to yourself and your project for the R.W. Kern Center blog; this will be used in a post on the Spring 2019 grant recipients. Please include a photo (headshot, project imagery, etc.), and commentary on how your project relates to the R.W. Kern Center.

Progress documentation for social media - once per month, November 2019 through April 2020

Provide at least three pictures/videos/quotes/etc. for social media. These should show your process and progress, and be suitable for posting (or re-posting) on the RWKC Twitter, Instagram, or Facebook.

Project Update - due by December 20, 2019

Provide a brief update to post on the R.W. Kern Center blog. This can be in the form of a written post, video, audio clip, or other media as agreed. This update should reflect on your project progress so far.

Final Reflection - due by April 30, 2020

Provide a final reflection on your project for the R.W. Kern Center website. This can be in the form of a written post, video, audio clip, or other media as agreed. This piece should include reflection on your project process, final result, and the role of the R.W. Kern Center in your work.

Public Showcase (optional)

You may have the opportunity to present your project as part of a R.W. Kern Center showcase or other campus event. Details will be agreed upon with the R.W. Kern Center Director.

Ownership and Usage

All materials and equipment purchased under this funding award are and will remain the property of the grantee (you). You give the R.W. Kern Center permission to use photos, videos, or other materials related to the final product of your project on their website or in other communications.

Funding Credit

Please include the following funding credit in your project presentations/publications: "This project was supported by a grant from the R.W. Kern Center and Leona and Ralph W. Kern Foundation." If you use the credit more than once, you can abbreviate it to "the R.W. Kern Center."

R.W. Kern Center Style Guidelines

When referring to the R.W. Kern Center in written work, the full building name should be used (not "Kern Center" or "Kern"). For repeated references to the building, you may use the short form RWKC.
